

A Peer Network for
Technical Assistance

National Service-Learning Exchange

The National Service-Learning Exchange operates a national network of volunteer Peer Mentors with experience and expertise in service-learning. They are available at no cost to help you develop or enhance your service-learning efforts. Almost 500 Peer Mentors have been recruited in a variety of service-learning expertise areas. How can they help you? Peer Mentors can...

- Answer a question about service-learning by phone or e-mail;
- Mentor you over the course of an academic year;
- Present at a conference or faculty meeting;
- Give feedback on your curriculum, syllabus, or proposal; and
- Share ideas about what has worked in their communities.

Please let us know how we can work with you by faxing or mailing the bottom portion of this form to: the Institute for Global Education and Service-Learning, c/o Atlantic Service-Learning Exchange, 2222 Trenton Road, Lower Left Suite, Levittown, PA 19056. Fax 215-945-1818.
